“My passion is connecting with my patients and educating them about their eye conditions. I feel a great sense of joy when I am able to explain an eye condition and work with the patient to find the best solution.”

DR. KIM COOPER

OPTOMETRIST

Specializes in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of eye disease, dry eye, surgical co-management, difficult contact lens fits and routine eye care for all ages.

Dr. Kim Cooper grew up in Three Rivers, Michigan. She attended both Glen Oaks Community College, earning an Associate of Science degree, and Ferris State University with a Bachelor of Applied Biology degree. At the Michigan College of Optometry – Ferris State University, she graduated top of her class and received her Doctor of Optometry. She completed her residency at Dorn VA Medical Center.

Dr. Cooper is a proud member of the National Board of Examiners of Optometry, Accreditation Council on Optometric Education, Association of Regulatory Boards of Optometry, American Academy of Optometry Fellow and the American Optometric Association.

Dr. Cooper joined Boling Vision Center because she recognized that this team is efficient, friendly and on the top of their game when treating and managing patients. She was impressed that staff members go through vigorous training programs specific to their department and the doctors are highly educated and up-to-date with current patient management.
